Introduction

Are you fed up with the extensive paperwork when administrating fishing permits, hunting, forest services, trails and accommodation? Try our effective cloud service NatureIT which digitally helps you manage sales, administration and follow-up of these and similar services.

Why NatureIT?

As an administrator, you do not have to do the extensive and time-consuming paperwork. Your customers get a clear overview with the built-in map function and can easily via mobile phone or computer obtain his/her permit or other service, instead of as of today drive tens of kilometers to get your permit.

This is how it works:

We connect our administrative system to your current website, or if you choose, you use solely NatureIT as sales channel. Via our system you manage your sales over the Internet, administration, and monitoring using data and statistics that the system stores. Via the map drawing feature, you can easily plot your activity areas such as fishing or hunting areas. If necessary, we adapt your site. Your customers can buy their permit such as a trail-license via computer or mobile. For hunting and fishing, they can then report back to the system via their mobile phone or computer. https://www.natureit.se/node/3444

NatureIT turns to:

Authorities, administrations, real estate and land owners, organizations and commercial actors that sell and administer services such as hunting, fishing, forest service, land and similar.

Payment:

You pay via a monthly fee, no setup fees. Your customers are paying over the Internet directly to you.
